WAREHOUSES STAY CLOSED TILL DEC. 15

To Give Burley Association Time
To Organize and Negotiate
For Their Purchase

At the meeting of the tobacco warehousemen with organizers of the Burley Tobacco Growers' Association at Lexington Tuesday, all warehousemen agreed to close their houses indefinitely until the Association can fully organize and prepare propositions to take over the houses, except the two Richmond warehouses, the Lebus house in Cynthiana and the McKibben house at Madison, Indiana.

An agreement was finally reached, however, by which all warehouses will close until December 15th, by which time it is expected that the Burley Association can be fully organized and incorporated and ready to negotiate for taking over the warehouses, the owners of which wish to sell.

Among the warehousemen who attended the meeting from here were Messrs. Warfield Bennett, Garnett Millon, Paul Burnam, W. E. Luxon, Irvine Hume and Vernon Leer.

The Lexington Herald had the following about the meeting on Tuesday:

One hundred of one hundred eleven warehouses or warehouse companies represented at a conference yesterday with the warehouse committee of the Burley Tobacco Growers' Cooperative Association voted to adopt a resolution providing for the closing of the warehouses, so far as the sale of burley tobacco is concerned, pending the permanent organization of the association and the selection of the board of directors.

The other 11 did not vote against closing, but later in the afternoon held a conference with the warehouse committee, at which details relating to these particular warehouses were worked out, some of them being in counties where dark tobacco, as well as burley, is grown and desiring to open their houses to sell dark tobacco only, while remaining closed so far as burley is concerned.

Following the conference all except three of the warehouses agreed to remain closed pending the permanent organization of the association and those three agreed to remain closed until December 15, giving the association the opportunity to purchase in the meantime.

The conference adopted without opposition a resolution proposed by a committee composed of James C. Stone, M. L. Kirkpatrick and Dave Prewitt, which was appointed on motion of Dr. Samuel H. Halley, after a number of motions and substitute motions had been offered looking toward the valuation of warehouse property. The resolution offered by the committee provided that the warehousemen offer their property to the association for its use until the board of directors of the association and the owners of the property have had an opportunity to work out a method of valuation of the property it is proposed by the association to take over.

Just previous to the adjournment of the conference, which was in session from 10 until 1 o'clock, and which assembled again at 2 o'clock, Chairman Ralph M. Barker, of the warehouse committee, expressed hope that no warehousemen in the district would ignore the wishes of the 50,000 tobacco growers who had signed the cooperative marketing contract and that all would keep their houses closed so far as the sale of burley tobacco was concerned until the association could get ready to do business.

Vice Chairman Stone expressed the same thought, calling attention to the fact that the men in the conference had all been for the cooperative marketing plan and had worked hard for it, making possible by that work and devotion to the cause its final success.

The resolution providing that the warehouses remain closed to the sale of burley tobacco pending the organization of the association was offered by the Rev. J. R. Jones, of Harrison county and was the first business considered by the conference. It reads as follows:

"Resolved, that we keep our warehouses closed for the sale of burley tobacco until the board of directors of the Burley Tobacco Growers' Cooperative Association is elected and a reasonable time is allowed the association to get organized and ready for business."

The resolution relating to the valuation of warehouse property, as finally reported by the committee, named on motion of Dr. Halley, was adopted unanimously. It follows:

"Inasmuch as the board of directors of the Burley Tobacco Growers' Cooperative Association will be elected within the next thirty days, and as nothing can be legally done until they are elected, and as we have been assured that the subject of appraisal, buying or leasing of our properties will be taken up as soon as possible after said board is elected."

"Be it resolved, that we warehousemen offer to the association the use of our warehouses until the board of directors of the association, in connection with the owners of the warehouses work out a fair method of arriving at the values of the various properties by arbitration."

When Mr. Jones presented his resolution providing that the warehouses close so far as the sale of burley is concerned, Vice-Chairman Stone took the floor and explained that it would require twenty or thirty days time for the association to elect its directors and get started in business. He said that three methods of acquiring the necessary property probably would be considered, depending upon the wish of the warehousemen—outright purchase, leasing with the privilege of purchase and supply leasing the property, in the case of owners who prefer not to sell. He said the warehousemen of the district had gotten behind the organization "simply on faith," and that all that was asked of them now was to "extend that faith for thirty days." He said that the warehousemen and everybody else would be treated fairly, for that would be absolutely necessary if the organization is to succeed.

Charles M. Marshall, member of the warehouse committee, then suggested that all the warehousemen who had voted for the resolution to close, come forward and sign for their companies the resolution for the closing. This was done, except in one instance, one warehouseman having left the room before the written resolution could be prepared for the signatures of those who voted for it. While the resolution was being signed Chairman Barker suspended the session and the warehousemen and growers spent the interim in general discussion of their problem.

Rev. J. A. Lee, of Owen county, one of the new members of the Kentucky Senate from the 26th district, moved that the chair appoint a committee on ways and means of arriving at a fair valuation of the warehouse property to be taken over by the association and to work out a basis of valuation applicable to all warehouses.

This motion was discussed by a number of members of the association and warehousemen, including Mr. L. Kirkpatrick, owner of between twelve and fourteen warehouses in Ohio, West Virginia and Kentucky; Dave Prewitt, of Fayette county; William Whitman, of Cincinnati; T. M. Estes, of Lebanon; R. A. Young, of Cave City; Daniel Durrin, of Harrison county; F. P. Drake, of Fayette; Frank C. Taylor, of Nicholas; S. H. Rogers, of Marion county, and others.

Mr. Prewitt offered a substitute motion providing for the appointment of a representative of the association in each county in which a warehouse is located, the warehousemen to appoint a representative in each county, and the two to appoint a third, the three to fix the value of warehouses. Vice Chairman Stone thought that a basic principle of general application throughout the district should be adopted in the valuation of warehouse property, so that the values fixed in one county should not vary greatly from the values fixed in every county. He said he thought such valuation ought to be based on the present value of the property involved, that he felt sure the warehousemen wanted to be fair and that the association members wanted to be fair to the warehousemen. So urged a uniform valuation as fair to all interests involved.

Mr. Kirkpatrick, as the representative of twelve or fourteen warehouses in three states, said that the warehousemen wanted only competent men to value the property involved in the proposed deal and that a fair valuation could be had at the hands of appraising corporations, which he said did business nowadays like public accountants. He said these corporations as appraisers would be free from local influence of any kind and would be absolutely fair to both sides, placing absolutely disinterested values on the property. He thought that if such a concern were employed to appraise the property the result would be satisfactory to all warehousemen as well as tobacco growers in the association.

After some further discussion of the question of warehouse valuation, Dr. Halley offered his motion for a committee composed of Messrs. Stone, Kirkpatrick and Prewitt and adjournment was taken for lunch after Chairman Barker had appointed the committee.

FRANCE IS SATISFIED WITH LAND ARMS PLAN

(By Associated Press)

Washington, Nov. 23.—Delegations of the five powers discussed land armaments today but no definite declaration of policy resulted from their deliberations. It is understood none presented concrete pronouncement supporting the French attitude toward army reductions, as outlined by the full conference Monday by Premier Briand.

After two hours discussion, the French delegation indicated the trend was such France had nothing to fear from subsequent negotiations on land armaments.

TRUST LAW VIOLATORS SENTENCED TO JAIL

(By Associated Press)

New York, Nov. 23.—Indications today were that for the first time since the passage of the Sherman anti-trust measure, violators of the act would actually serve time behind the prison bars. Four active members of the The Grate and Mantel Manufacturer and Dealers Association were sentenced in federal court here today from two to four months in jail. Federal District Attorney Hayward declared they would be on their way to jail and that previous guilty pleas will have appeal to a higher court.

$40,000 IN POCKETS OF TURKEY RAISERS

Madison county turkey buyers paid the highest prices of any market in this section of the state with the probable exception of Winchester. Their prices to the farmers and farmers' wives ran from 30 to 35 cents a pound, whereas London dealers are reported to have paid but 25 cents; Garrard county 26 cents and Fayette county not much more than that.

The farmers held back their best birds, apparently for the Christmas market, said F. H. Gordon, who perhaps handled the largest number that went to market from Madison. Mr. Gordon says that a large percentage of the birds that passed through his pens was too young and immature, and therefore of poor quality. He estimates that the local dealers paid out about $40,000 to the farmers for the Thanksgiving birds and perhaps the same amount will go into their pockets for their Christmas crop. About 5,000 were shipped from Richmond to the eastern markets, most of them going to Boston, Mass. Mr. Gordon shipped a car load to Haverhill, Mass., a big show manufacturing town about 100 miles north of Boston. The market here began Nov. 8th and extended thru Nov. 18. The Christmas market will open shortly after the first of December.

Corn Crib Blows Down

B. E. BELUE'S DEATH SHOCK TO COMMUNITY

Prominent Business of Richmond
Succumbs While On Visit
In South

Friends and relatives here were deeply shocked and grieved late Tuesday evening when news came of the death of Mr. B. E. Belue at the home of his brother, Dr. J. C. Belue, in Rogersville, Ala., where he went for a visit a few days ago. Mr. Belue had been in ill health for several months, but his condition was not alarming and the full particulars of his death were not stated in the message.

Mr. and Mrs. Belue came to Richmond from Washington, Indiana, about ten years ago, and have made many warm friends, who greatly regret his sudden passing.

Mr. and Mrs. Belue had built up a splendid business in this community. He was held in high esteem by all who came in contact with him either in business or socially, and his death came as a distinct loss to the commercial life of the community.

Mr. Belue was a member of the Presbyterian church, a man of courteous manner, and devoted to his family and friends. Surviving him are his wife, who was Miss Elizabeth Baldwin, one daughter, Ida Helen, three sons, Norwood, Charles and Billy Sam; his brother, Dr. J. C. Belue, one sister in Alabama.

The funeral services will be held at the residence on Smith-ballard street Thursday afternoon at 3 o'clock, conducted by Dr. R. L. Telford.

KILLED SISTER-IN-LAW TO GET BANKBOOK

(By Associated Press)

Chicago, Nov. 23.—A story of heartlessness, poverty and robbery mixed with concern for his wife, was told in a confession here today of Thomas Catherwood, 20, who said he strangled his sister-in-law, Mrs. Betty Sharples, to death yesterday as she rocked the cradle of her infant child and worked on a tiny garment for another expected child. Catherwood said he had been out of a job for weeks. His wife finally said she would work and support the family. "I could not bear that," said Catherwood, who said he visited his sister-in-law yesterday, saw her bankbook, picked a quarrel with her and strangled her to death with a rope in the hope of stealing the $65 the bank book showed. Police say Catherwood was apparently without feeling in telling the story.

NO BIG LEADER IS YET IN SIGHT

Turn the Tide By Taking Advantage of the 25,000 Extra Votes Offered This Week

There are just four more days left, Saturday being the last day of the big $30 period in the Daily Register subscription campaign. Some of the candidates have not yet secured any of the 25,000 extra votes being offered this week, as they did during last week. So they have only four more days to get these extra votes as this period closes for good next Saturday and the opportunity to make up this shortage by getting some of these votes is brief. As you well know, $30 turned in on subscriptions during this week will secure for you one of these big coupons.

Thus far no big leader or worker standing head and shoulders above any other worker has developed in this campaign. As a rule at this time in any campaign somebody has practically "won already," but in this instance the rule is changed as is indicated by the way the candidates are standing. All are still on a common footing. All at this date have an equal showing to win some of the grand prizes, which you know are well worth your time and work, and the effort put forth in the next few weeks will determine the winners of these valuable prizes.

Remember there are just four more days in this big $30 period. If you have a friend in this race you had better act quickly for some of these candidates are going to have a lead in the next ten days.

H. P. Dykes Has Good Sale

H. P. Dykes, prominent Red House citizen, held a good sale of livestock and personalty at his home at Red House Wednesday morning. Long Tom Cheneault conducted the sale and got splendid prices for everything except horses and mules, which are lower at present the popular auctioneer says, than he has ever seen them in 45 years of his career. Mr. Dykes was well pleased with the result of the sale, however. He plans to move to Florida soon and will locate in business on the west coast.

Arch Moore, of Frankfort, was awakened by rain in his face to find that a tornado had lifted the Old Guineas 30c head of his house and carried it 50 yards.

The Real Hero Of It All

President Harding, Secretary Hughes and others at Washington are receiving the major portion of the credit for the disarmament conference of the great powers. But those who are familiar with international events and impartially adjudge credit where credit is due, know that to a sick man on a quiet street in Washington is due the major portion of the credit for it all. To him was given the vision for an international concord, whereby nations should meet nation at the table of fraternal understanding. Now that the clamor and excitement of politics and partisanship is over, the people are beginning to understand, too, to whom the real honor is due. At the funeral of that unknown hero at the capital the other day, the great crowd which had assembled held its ovation for the real hero of the war—Woodrow Wilson. A Richmond young man at the capital wrote back of the remarkable demonstration given him. He says:

"I must tell you of the reception tendered Mr. Wilson by the people. With President Harding, his Cabinet, and celebrated personages from all over the world in the funeral of the unknown hero, Mr. Wilson was the only one cheered, and his ovation lasted from one end of Pennsylvania avenue to the other. Immediately after the funeral a crowd estimated at 20,000 people, went to his home, and as I wanted to get a close-up of him, I managed to be there among the first. Well, the papers all say tonight that such a reception was never tendered anyone in the history of the nation. They cheered him as the 'man sent from God,' and as 'the greatest man the world has ever known,' with cheers for the League of Nations and with women crying that they loved him, you never saw or can't imagine what a reception he did get. He was overcome by his emotions and burst into tears."

RICHMOND DRUG CO.

And as if to confirm all this, read from the Washington Herald, which Hoover's former paper had to say of

Woodrow Wilson, Idealist

If there could be a moving picture of a great parade of Armistice Day with a phonograph attached, it should be sent for his delectation and emotional discipline to one George Harvey, Ambassador without discretion of the United States at the Court of St. James. Such a picture would show one lone horse-drawn carriage in the miles of machines and military trappings. In this vehicle were former President Woodrow Wilson and Mrs. Wilson.

Passing along the Avenue between solid banks of Americans of all parties and all conditions, this carriage met a continuous spontaneous and hearty applause. It was an unmistakable tribute. Following the ceremonies at Arlington, 10,000 of these people massed themselves about Woodrow Wilson's home to pay him a further tribute of affectionate regard.

This double demonstration can have but one significance—Americans are not merely selfish, self-seeking, self-centered, sordid opportunists; they have not cast aside ideals nor the motive force of sheer righteousness. Mr. Wilson stands with the American people for a great ideal, or series of ideals. No one can rob him of that place in national opinion. He may have been wholly impractical, stubborn and egotistic in the extreme. The Herald believes he was. But his ideals live. They are inseparable from his name, and whatever this may mean in history, cannot be denied him in the years to come, and it is folly or worse to attempt to deny it to him now.

Another element in the genuine ovation given him is his sickness. He never again can be a national leader, and there is a growing feeling that he has been unfairly used, not so much during his term of office nor in the election as since. This is evidenced in a sympathy from his political opponents of the rank and file, and from those who intensely disapproved his policies.

Mr. Harvey and his kind have made more friends for Mr. Wilson and jeopardized more bonds for the Republican party than any other influence. They are the most prolific capital the Democrats have, and if wisdom comes by seeing and hearing, they saw and heard on Friday, as that broken man became almost triumphant in a defeat never equalled in American politics.

JACOBS CAUGHT IN CORN SHOCK IN CASEY

Bondsman Bring In Lincoln County Merchant Who Skipped Out During Federal Court

Hugh Jacobs, prominent country merchant of Lincoln county, before federal court on charges of receiving stolen goods and exchanging whisky for stolen goods and who disappeared here during the recent term of Judge Cochran's court, was brought to Richmond Tuesday by two of his bondsmen and R. E. Horton and placed in jail. The eight Lincoln county men who were on Jacob's bond for $7,000 are thus released from liability.

R. E. Horton, of Lincoln county, wins the $50 reward offered by J. C. Calhoun for the apprehension of Jacobs. Calhoun was one of the bondsmen, the other seven being J. G. Griffith, B. H. Smith, Jesse Jacobs, Walter Stull, Grant Stamper, Richard Jacobs, and J. F. Florence.

Jacobs says that his getaway after coming to federal court last week with his bondsmen, was due to a misapprehension on his part. He came with them to court, and was in the federal building, and thought that his bondsmen were then released. He did not wait for the cases against him to be called, but slipped away from them and caught a freight train and rode to Cincinnati. He says he then followed his way and walked back to King's Mountain, Lincoln county, near which he has been conducting a country store for many years. He then went over into Casey county, 14 miles south of Eubank, and has been working for a farmer south of there under the name of Carter. Jacobs says he ate breakfast and dinner and got 50 cents a day for labor. He slept out in hay and fodder shocks.

When Jacobs' case was called in court, his lawyer, Attorney C. C. Bagby, of Danville, entered a plea of not guilty on his behalf, and the bondsmen began to hunt for Jacobs. He was not to be found. Visions of having to dig up that $7,000 bail began to worry them, so the $50 reward was offered, and became "norted about" in all the country where Jacobs was known. Horton got wind that Jacobs was hiding out down in Casey, so took several of the bondsmen and a posse and went after him. They caught him asleep in his fodder shock, surrounded it and he gave up without resistance, so was brought to jail here at once by Messrs. Horton, Calhoun and Stamper. He will be kept in jail here this week and taken to London to answer in federal court there next Monday when his case are called again.

The main charge against Jacobs is that of being one of the "fences" through which the gang of King's Mountain car robbers, convicted here last week, disposed of their loot.

The method of operation of the "King's Mountain gang" was simple, but it took hard work on the part of railroad detectives to get a clue to the robbers. The first arrest came when one of the gang offered to surrender if promised protection. This was promised by Detective Coleman, who who obtained some few names and an inkling of the methods of the gang from this prisoner. He found that the gang was composed of many members, all of whom resided in the King's Mountain section. Desertion or to "sneak" meant certain death, according to the one giving himself up.

The plan of operation of the gang was for several of them to hop a freight train and ride to Greenwood, where they would catch another freight and ride toward King's Mountain. Breaking into the merchandise cars, these men would throw off the stolen goods while the train was going over the Waynesburg hill at a slow rate of speed. Other members of the gang would be in hiding there in the woods. All would then proceed to gather up the stolen goods and transport them to their rendezvous near King's Mountain.

These goods were then peddled out in various ways, but the biggest and best customers were certain small merchants in that section.

The losses during the several months of operations of the gang were going on ran into thousands of dollars. Some transactions brought out after the arrests were that one merchant bought $1,800 worth of goods from members of the gang for $3 in money and three gallons of moonshine whiskey. Another purchased 1,800 towels at less than one cent each.

THANKFUL

We are thankful that we have had the privilege of living and doing business in the city of Richmond in the good old county of Madison.

We are thankful to the people of the city, county, and adjoining counties for the nice business they have given us in the past.

While the past year has been trying on the farmer and business man alike, let us look to Him who is able to bless, giving thanks for the blessings we have received the past year.

A Wonderful Floor Entirely Devoted to Everything for Boys and Girls of All Ages

Forty-five years ago Mabley's, Cincinnati, was founded upon the idea that the boys and girls of this community were important. For forty-five years that idea has been developing. One result has been a specialized knowledge of young people's needs unequalled anywhere. And another result has been

Parents—and mothers emphatically—cannot help but greatly appreciate the convenience and comfort of doing all the shopping for the boys and girls, from the little tot to the lad and lass almost ready to step out of their teens, ALL ON ONE FLOOR.

This floor will be one of the city's show places. In its completeness, in size and in its comforts it ranks as one of the few floors of its kind in America.

Its entire 20,000 square feet are given over to

- Boys' Clothes, Shoes, Hats, Caps, Furnishings, Hosiery and Underwear.
- Girls' Dresses, Suit, Coats, Skirts, Millinery, Hosiery, Shoes and Underwear.
- Infants' Apparel of all kinds—Nursery Needs, Furniture and Baby Carriages.
- Children's Barber Shop.

All of which is our admission that we DO like children.

Remarkable Facts Of Her

Mrs. J. R. Bates, 1227 Dunes
St., Richmond, Va., who had lost hope of ever seeing a well day

"I don't believe anybody ever suffered more from dyspepsia than I did. My health was so poor that we gave up keeping house and went to board. I went to the best specialists and tried many medicines and treatments
but all the time I grew worse.
My condition finally became absolutely desperate. My husband and friends gave up hope and I myself thought there was no chance for my recovery.
"I can say for Tanlac it has done for me what seemed impos-

"RED" TIPPED FOR CAPTAIN NEXT YEAR

(By Associated Press) Danville, Nov. 23.—When "Bo" McMillan, star quarterback of the Centre college football team for the past four years, leaves the field in New Orleans tomorrow, after playing Tulane University, he will have played his last game for the Kentucky college, barring the possibility that the team will play one or two post-season games in the west. He ended his career on Kentucky gridirons last Saturday in the game with Washington and Lee at Louisville.

Not only will it be the last for "Bo," but Capt. Norris Armstrong and "Bill" James this year close their careers as players for the Kentucky team. Gregor and Murphy will graduate this year, but have another season of football under the rules and may return for post-graduate work.

With the end of the season so near the question of who will lead the Colonels in their 1922 campaign has come to the fore. While nothing definite has been done along this line and nothing will be done until after the season ends, it is freely predicted among followers of the team that "Red" Roberts will be chosen.

WHISKY STILL IN STATE PAYS BIG TAX

(By Associated Press) Frankfort, Ky., Nov. 23.—Whisky withdrawn from Kentucky warehouses during the years ending June 30, 1920, and June 30, 1921, totalled 350,523 barrels, according to figures compiled in the office of State Auditor John J. Craig. This, according to the way whisky is estimated for state taxation, at the rate of 36 gallons to the barrel, would total 12,618,828 gallons.

Withdrawals during the fiscal year ending July 1, 1919, and June 30, 1920, were 224,526 barrels and during the year ending June 30, 1921, were 125,997 barrels.

The state received in 1919-20 a total of $89,597.59 in taxes on distilled spirits and in 1920-21, $68,018.01.

The road tax netted the state $2,739.49 in the year 1919-20 and $1,590.49 in 1920-21. The special two cent a gallon tax netted $129,280.11 in 1919-20 but was not computed during the year 1920-21 because of the Vance act making the tax 50 cents a gallon and which later was declared unconstitutional. The payments of the two cent tax for that year did not come in until after June 30 and therefore are credited to the fiscal year 1921-22.

COLORED COLUMN

(By W. B. Chenault) On Sunday night, November 20, the colored Christian church of Richmond was destroyed by fire which originated from a defective electric wiring. There was only $500 insurance on the building and the congregation is left without a place to worship. A meeting of the board of trustees has been called by J. A. Simpson, chairman, to devise ways and means to secure funds with which to rebuild. Any person desiring to render aid, assistance and encouragement to this worthy christian body in their hour of misfortune will please call on J. A. Simpson at the home of N. B. Deatherage on Second street in Richmond, Kentucky, and make such contribution as they wish to make to the worthy cause.—J. A. Simpson.

There will be one of the greatest football games of the season on Thanksgiving day between the Frankfort Colored High and Richmond Colored High at 2:30 p. m. Greenland Park.
